

Payments & Refunds

- 1. How can I make a payment on Fameo?
You can make payments using the payment methods available at checkout.
- 2. What payment methods does Fameo accept?
The available payment options will be shown on the payment/checkout page.
- 3. Why did my payment fail?
A payment may fail because of insufficient balance, incorrect payment details, bank issues, network problems, or payment-gateway errors. Try again or use another payment method.
- 4. My money was deducted, but the payment shows as failed. What should I do?
Don't make the payment again immediately. Check your transaction status first. If the amount was deducted and the payment remains unsuccessful, contact Fameo support with the transaction details.
- 5. I was charged twice for the same transaction. What should I do?
Contact Fameo support and provide the transaction details. The duplicate payment can be checked and processed according to the applicable refund policy.
- 6. My payment is showing as pending. What does that mean?
It means the payment has not been confirmed yet. Wait for the transaction status to update before trying again.
- 7. Can I cancel a payment after completing it?
Cancellation depends on the type and status of the transaction. Check the applicable cancellation/refund policy or contact support.
- 8. Can I get a refund after making a payment?
Refund eligibility depends on the product/service purchased and Fameo's applicable refund policy.
- 9. How do I request a refund?
Contact Fameo support with your transaction/order details and explain the reason for your refund request.
- 10. How long does a refund take?
Once a refund is approved and processed, the time for the amount to appear in your account may depend on the payment method and financial institution.

11. Where will my refund be credited?

Refunds are generally returned through the original payment method, subject to the applicable payment/refund process.

12. Can I get a refund if I change my mind?

It depends on the specific purchase and the applicable cancellation/refund policy.

What if I paid for something but didn't receive the service?

Contact Fameo support with your payment and purchase details so the transaction can be checked.

I entered the wrong payment details. What should I do?

If the payment has not been completed, correct the details and try again. If the payment was already completed, contact support.

Can I get a refund for a cancelled booking/collaboration?

Refund eligibility depends on the cancellation terms applicable to that booking or service.

Why haven't I received my refund yet?

Refund processing can take time depending on the payment provider or bank. If the expected timeframe has passed, contact Fameo support with your transaction details.

Is there a cancellation fee?

Any cancellation fee depends on the specific service, booking, or transaction terms shown at the time of purchase.

What should I do if I don't recognize a payment?

Contact Fameo support immediately and provide the transaction details so the payment can be investigated.

Can I change my payment method after payment?

Usually, a completed payment cannot be switched to another payment method. Contact support if you need help with a specific transaction.

Do I get a confirmation after successful payment?

A successful payment should show a confirmation/status update. Check your Fameo account and registered communication channels for transaction details.

What information should I provide when contacting support about a payment issue?

Provide your registered account details, transaction/order reference, payment date, amount, and a brief description of the issue. Never share your password, OTP, or full card details.
